

Restitution Parent Training

with Joel Shimoji

Restitution training is a valuable parenting technique that helps children learn responsibility for their actions and understand why they engage in certain behaviours. By implementing this method, parents can encourage their children to take appropriate actions when they make mistakes. It promotes accountability and teaches valuable life lessons, fostering a sense of responsibility in kids. All schools in our district are receiving staff training around implementing the principles of restitution from Joel Shimoji with Real Restitution.

Topics Covered include:

- What used to work, what works now
- New science of intrinsic motivation
- Five Positions of Control
- 30 second interventions
- The Weave
- Building the Family Social Contract
- Restitution Triangle
